Credit Transfer	Generally, in Wuhan University one credit consists of 18 class hours, assignments and a final exam. Any academic credit received in Wuhan University may be transferred to your home university in accordance with the regulations of your home University.
Transcripts	Students can request your official final transcript in the Teaching Affairs Office of SIE once you finish all exams. Results are usually ready in about a week after the exam. In the event that results are not available before your departure, you can authorize a third-party to collect your transcript (recommended) or choose to mail the transcript to a home address (postage payment involved).
Application Information and Deadlines
Procedure	Partner Universities will nominate students sending us their names and family names (as reported on their passports), e-mail address, degree course, field of study and duration of the mobility (one semester or one academic year). And the exchange students should complete their online application. The nomination and the application both should be done before the deadline. Deadline: Fall/Winter term :May 10th Spring/Summer term: November 10th
Considerations for Nomination & Application	Students complete online application and upload application documents before the deadline at http://fses-admin.whu.edu.cn/member/login.do or http://fses-admin.whu.edu.cn/ It should be noted that Chinese nationality students cannot apply for this system, and students who have registered before do not need to register again. After that, you will get a PDF document from this website and then send it to your home institution's exchange coordinator. The home institution's exchange coordinator will e-mail your signed application material to us (inbound@whu.edu.cn) before the deadline. Please pay attention that the entire nominated student's information and their signed application materials should be sent together by our exchange partners abroad to inbound@whu.edu.cn You will receive the admission materials one month later after we get the nomination e-mail, as there are three different sections involved in issuing the admission letter. Please note: In order to ensure the smooth arrival of admission materials, materials will be sent to the program coordinator directly but NOT to students, so please provide the accurate mailing address of your university. Attention: The partner university need to ensure the nominated students have completed the application, or the nomination will be expired.
